

Mohammed Al-Mabrouk Masoud Al-Barki

Petroleum Engineer | Program Officer – Justice and Security (EO)

Tripoli, Libya | Mohammed0931282849@gmail.com

Professional Summary

Petroleum engineering graduate with strong analytical skills and a high capacity for organization and administrative work, combined with practical experience in office and administrative tasks including public interaction, document filing, and daily procedure follow-up. Proficient in both Arabic and English, with good command of office computer software. Seeking to join a dedicated team where organizational and analytical skills can be applied to support program objectives.

Education

Bachelor's Degree in Petroleum Engineering

Academic study covering engineering principles, technical analysis, small-scale project management, and occupational safety fundamentals.

Work Experience

Administrative Officer / Office Work

- Received clients and visitors, responding to inquiries in a professional manner.
- Organized and archived official files and documents, both electronically and physically.
- Followed up on daily administrative correspondence and coordinated it between departments.
- Prepared basic periodic reports using office computer software.
- Assisted in organizing meetings and scheduling appointments.

Skills

- Fluent in Arabic and English (reading, writing, and speaking).
- Good proficiency in office software (Word, Excel, PowerPoint).
- Strong organizational and administrative skills with good time management.
- Effective communication skills and ability to work within a team.
- Strong analytical and problem-solving abilities.
- Punctual and detail-oriented in completing tasks.

Additional Information

- Nationality: Libyan
- Place of Residence: Tripoli, Libya
- Status: Available for full-time work